Dean Williams at the Glasgow Commonwealth Games

Sports lecturer earns top award

A SENIOR lecturer at Edge Hill University, who has spent the last 28 years officiating athletics events including the London 2012 Olympic Games, has been given a top award.

Dean Williams, a former regional javelin coach, who lectures in PE and School Sport, has been recognised for his work training and educating athletics officials.

Dean - who famously had to face the wrath of long jumper Chris Tomlinson during London 2012's Super Saturday when he was forced to ask him to pause his jump so Mo Farrah's 10,000m race could begin - has been named Officials Developer of the Year.

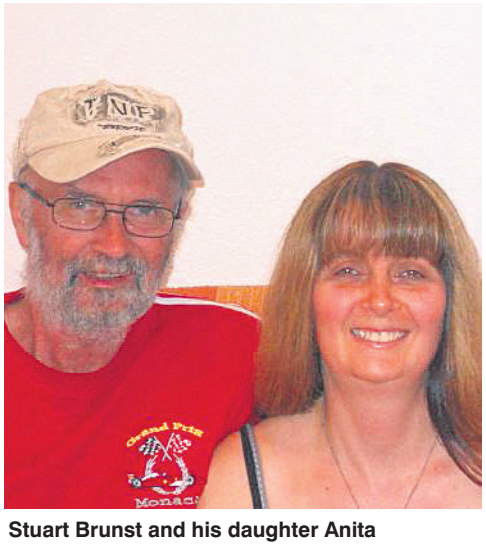
As one of only five UK International Technical Officials (ITO), Dean said: "It's a real honour to receive this award, particularly as its come from Sports Officials UK which represents officials from all sports not just athletics.

Earlier this year Dean was also awarded the Official's Official of the Year at the British Athletics Conference, an award voted for by his peers.

And he is hoping to hear shortly if he has been chosen to officiate at the World Championships in Athletics in London next year.

MAN DIED AFTER OPERATION ON HIS BROKEN LEG

Hospital's neglect contributed to pensioner's death, says coroner



Stuart Brunst and his daughter Anita

Report by Ollie Cowan

- Inquest hears screws inserted wrongly during operation
- Family not informed of NHS investigation for 10 months
- Several improvements recommended following report

THE devastated daughter of a 67-year-old Aughton man who died following an operation on a broken leg says she hopes lessons are learned after it was found doctors had failed to admit their mistakes and had failed in their care of him.

Stuart Brunst died on October 2 last year, just three weeks after undergoing surgery at Southport Hospital for a broken femur incurred during a fall at his home.

Following the operation it was found that screws were inserted incorrectly and became dislodged. Stuart tragically passed away after developing a fat embolism.

An inquest at Southport Town Hall heard that hospital bosses hadn't told the family that they had even launched an internal investigation into Stuart's death for 10 months following his passing.

At the one-day hearing, senior coroner Christopher Sumner concluded that the 'actions, and at times, inactivity of Southport District Hospital did amount to neglect and contributed to the death of Mr Brunst.'

The inquest heard that one of the screws inserted into Stuart's broken femur was not fitted correctly and the issue was not identified when x-rays were conducted in the operating theatre, despite the error being apparent on the x-rays. There were also delays in Stuart receiving further x-rays following the operation when he was complaining of pain.

Remembrance service details announced

WEST Lancs Council have announced details of this year's Remembrance Sunday parades and services on Sunday, November 13 when the borough will pay tribute to the brave people who suffered or lost their lives serving their country.

The mayor, Councillor Liz Savage, who will be attending services in Ormskirk and Burscough, said: "Remembrance Sunday is a very important day when we come together to honour the brave men and women who have died in the service of their country.

"West Lancashire is very proud of its links with the armed forces and large numbers attend the parades every year. We will all gather with pride to pay our respects to those who have made the ultimate sacrifice."

Cllr. Liz Savage will attend the Ormskirk event, accompanied by the council's chief executive, Kim Webber. The parade will assemble at St Anne's RC Church at 9.30am for a short service beginning at 9.40am including a minute's silence, Last Post and Reveille.

At 9.50am the parade will march to the war memorial in Coronation Park for a service where there will also be a minute's silence, Last Post, the laying of wreaths and Reveille.

Then at 10.10am the parade will march to Ormskirk Parish Church for the main Service of Remembrance starting at 10.30am. A salute will be taken outside the church. Afterwards refreshments will be served in the New Church Hall.

At the Skelmersdale service the deputy mayor, Councillor Neil Furey, accompanied by the director of leisure and wellbeing, David Tilleray, will join the parade marching from Whitemoss Road at 10.35am to the war memorial on Sandy Lane for a service and wreath-laying ceremony at 11am which will include a minute's silence, Last Post and Reveille.

Refreshments will be available after the service at the Winchester in Liverpool Road, Skelmersdale and also at the Wardens' Club in Blaguegate Lane.

The mayor will also attend the parade and service in Burscough.

Skelmersdale War Memorial

The parade will assemble outside Legion headquarters in Lord Street at 1.45pm and march off at 2pm to the war memorial in Junction Lane where a wreath will be laid and a service will take place.

The parade will then march back to the Legion headquarters where refreshments will be provided.

In addition, parish councils in Aughton, Lathom and Up Holland are arranging parades and ceremonies, and services will be held at many churches in the borough.

West Lancs Council has also organised a service and two-minute silence ceremony at 11am on Friday, November 11 in Ormskirk town centre.

The event, at the Clock Tower, will be attended by the mayor, members of the local clergy, councillors and senior officers.

Members of the public are very welcome to go along to the service and ceremony and are invited to gather from 10.45am onwards.

There will also be a short service and a two-minute silence at 11am on Friday, November 11 at the HMS Ringtail Monument, off Pippin Street roundabout, Burscough after which wreaths will be laid at the monument.

Everyone is welcome and can begin gathering around 10.50am.

Investigation identified key failings in care

The failure to fix Stuart's broken femur properly during the operation meant that he suffered pain when he tried to weight bear as the broken bones were not fixed back together meaning that the metalwork inserted during the operation could move about in his leg.

The investigation by the hospital trust found that the surgeon who conducted the operation had not inserted the screws correctly and that there was a failure to recognise this at the time of the operation when x-rays were done. It was also found that there were delays in carrying out further x-rays after the operation when they should have been taken.

Mr Brunst's daughter Anita has expressed grave concerns about the treatment her father received at the hospital, which is operated by the Southport, Formby and Ormskirk Hospital NHS Trust.

Since the inquest the trust has admitted liability for the poor care for Stuart which led to his death.

The family have now been made aware that the investigation identified key failings in Stuart's care many months before they were advised that the investigation had even taken place, depriving the family of being able to take part in the investigation or voice their concerns to the trust.

After the trust's internal investigation a number of recommendations were made to improve care and new x-ray procedures have been introduced.

"For him to go into hospital with just a simple broken leg and to die like this, is extremely hard to deal with"

Anita said: "Dad's death has had a huge impact on us and we are still struggling to come to terms with the huge hole he has left in our lives.

"For him to go into hospital with just a simple broken leg and to die like this, is extremely hard to deal with.

"My dad's death, and what happened afterwards, left us with a lot of unanswered questions.

"We were utterly shocked and disappointed that we weren't informed of the investigation being conducted by the trust, and their findings, until 10 months after dad's death.

"Following his death we had very little contact, support, words of sympathy or apology from the trust, despite the findings of their investigation being known to them, and we feel that isn't the way we should have been treated.

"We can only hope that the investigation conducted by the coroner and his findings that the trust's neglect played a part in dad's death, will continue to shed light on the treatment he received and will lead to the trust continuing to make improvements in the care that they provide to patients to ensure that this never happens to another family and that, in the future, they comply with their Duty Of Candour."

Sarah Sharples, a specialist medical negligence lawyer at Irwin Mitchell, representing Anita, said: "Stuart's sudden and tragic death has obviously had a significant impact on his family and they are struggling to come to terms with the series of events that caused his death, which stem from him undergoing routine surgery for a broken leg.

"The Duty of candour requires trusts to be open and honest when something goes wrong with treatment that causes harm or distress to somene in their care. Simply put, it means that families should be told when something goes wrong, there should be an apology and an explanation should be provided. None of those things happened in this case, in fact, quite the opposite."

The Champion has contacted the trust for a response.

Butchers George and Chris Hallsworth with their British Sausage Week gold awards

Family butchers strike gold in National Sausage Awards

MEMBERS of a family butchers' firm are savouring the sweet taste of success after winning gold awards in a prestigious national competition.

Father and son team George and Chris Hallworth, based in Wigan Road, Ormskirk struck gold in both categories that they entered in the 2016 National Sausage Awards.

Their achievements were announced on Tuesday, November 1 at an awards ceremony held in London

The team at Hallsworth and Son, won the top accolades for both their home-made traditional pork sausages and home-made Cumberland pork sausages.

The recognition comes after winning the top award in the North West category for their homemade sausages in the same competition last year.

Chris Hallsworth said: "We achieved success once more at National Sausage Week!

"We are extremely pleased to have achieved these accolades again as it follows recent success at the AHDB Northern Pork Awards for a full range of products including our home dry-cured bacon, home-made black pudding, home-made pork pies - and of course our home-made sausages!"

Food Bank on the move

VOLUNTEERS at Ormskirk Food Bank say it will be business as usual despite having to move from their previous base at The Boiler Room in Burscough Street to New Church House, next to Ormskirk Parish Church.

Bill Jones, one of the volunteers, reassured food bank users that they would be maintaining the same service at the same times from the new venue. He said: "We have had to move as the rent was costing too much. We are now based at New Church House on Church Street and we will still be open from 11am to 2pm on Tuesdays and Fridays."

Key figures who helped to steer the project including councillors, rangers, artists and representatives from the companies which undertook the work

New park area unveiled

WEST Lancs Council has officially unveiled what it described as "an exciting scheme to turn open space behind Ormskirk Railway Station into an attractive and welcoming park."

Station Approach Park includes a new, fully-accessible circular footpath suitable for parents with buggies and for people in wheelchairs, while a wildlife sculpture trail, created from designs produced by children from Ormskirk Primary School has been installed around the path.

An information plinth has also been installed telling the history of the land which used to be railway sidings.

The park also includes a section of the War Horse Walk, a route used during World War One when horses unloaded from trains were moved to Lathom Park to be prepared for battle.

A wildflower meadow has also been planted and a storytelling area has been created for Ormskirk Primary School's Forest School group to have classes in the open air.

Giles Storch, head teacher at Ormskirk CE Primary, said: "We are already engaged with the Forest Schools outdoor initiative and its approach to learning. The stimulating improvements to the park right beside us will open the window to many opportunities to study nature and linking land use with history."

Funding for the scheme has been raised by the council through developer contributions from nearby housing development sites.

The works have been undertaken by Groundwork Cheshire, Lancashire and Merseyside, in conjunction with the council's Parks and Countryside Ranger Service.

Land next to the newly-landscaped park area has been turned into an area of car parking for visitors and this will be officially opened at the same time.

The council has undertaken the work using Community Infrastucture Levy (CIL) funding raised from developers who are undertaking new building projects in the borough.

Councillor Yvonne Gagen, portfolio holder for leisure, said: "The park area looks fantastic now that this work has been completed."

And Councillor John Hodson, portfolio holder for planning, commented: "The works here show how the council provides excellent value for money as the funding we have been able to get through planning agreements with developers and CIL is be used to benefit the community."

Borough's new police chief goes back to her 'roots'

by Danielle Thompson

West Lancs' new Police Chief Inspector Jill Halliwell and knives handed in so far during the ongoing surrender in the borough

WEST Lancashire's new Police Chief Inspector Jill Halliwell has revealed her plans for policing in the borough while emphasising the importance of the ongoing knife surrender currently being held.

Lancashire Constabulary launched its second knife surrender on October 18, two years after the last one when more than 800 weapons were handed in. Originally planned to run until the end of October, it has since been extended with residents encouraged to hand in weapons anonymously as part of a national operation.

Special collecting bins have been placed at eight police stations across the county, including Skelmersdale, while weapons too large for the bins can be handed in at the front counters at those stations. To date, nine knives have been handed in at Skelmersdale and in an interview with the Champion PCI Halliwell stressed how important it was to get as many weapons off the streets as possible.

She said: "Nationally there has been a lot of publicity about knife crime going up and this is not acceptable. Amnesties have gone well in the past and we are hoping that as many weapons as possible are handed in to us – as the more that are off the streets, the better.

"One of the issues is the misconception that carrying a knife for self-protection will make you safer and that 'everyone has one' but this is certainly not the case in West Lancashire. The level of violence quickly escalates in a fight if someone has a weapon and there is a significant chance that your own knife will be used against you causing greater danger for all involved."

Proposed changes to police forces' grant funding means Lancashire will have to cut a further £24.8m on top of the £74m already saved since 2010.

However, PCI Halliwell said: "We have already spent six years refining the force and stopping waste. The knife surrender doesn't need much manpower but it is very effective.

"We are looking into working with our partner agencies to work on prevention – to discourage knife crime in the first place – and early action, looking at helping those who are likely to become involved in crime and supporting them so that they have other options.

"We're also working on tackling duplicity, where multiple agencies speak to the same family, when they could work together to provide one point of contact.

"The West Lancs Community Partnership is giving vulnerable children opportunities and helping channel them into alternatives, including sports."

PCI Halliwell also revealed that her new role sees her returning to her policing 'roots'. As well as living near to Skelmersdale, she also spent her first two years in the force 'on the beat' in the town before 20 years policing Preston.

She said: "Every area that we work in is different. I want to understand West Lancs and find out the crimes and issues which matter so that we can tailor the resources to the problems in this area.

"I am working with a new set of partners so building up these relationships is vital. We want a stronger feeling of trust between us and the public – they are our eyes and ears in the community and we need contact so that levels of reporting crime are high. The public are one of our most valued resources and we will be building up partnerships as community assets that we can use in working on our relationship with them."

MP supports new campaign to tackle financial fraud

Report by Henry James

WEST Lancs MP Rosie Cooper is backing a major new campaign designed to tackle financial fraud.

The campaign – Take Five – aims to put consumers and businesses back in control with straightforward advice to help prevent financial fraud and encourage people to take a moment. It is designed to remind people that it pays to 'stop and think'.

Take Five is the first national campaign to be backed by the major banks and other financial service providers across the UK.

Ms Cooper said: "Financial fraud can affect anyone and often has devastating consequences. With news that incidences of fraud are increasing, it's time for action.

"That's why the Take Five campaign is so important and why I am supporting its aims. I am urging everyone in West Lancashire to take a moment and help take back control."

MP Rosie Cooper displays the advice being offered as part of the Take Five scheme

Katy Worobec, director of fraud control at Financial Fraud Action (FFA) UK, said: "The industry is already taking action on fraud, last year our members stopped £7 in every £10 of fraud taking place.

"However, we know that criminals are getting increasingly sophisticated in their tactics and that's why we are launching Take Five.

"We want everyone to take a moment to pause and help stop fraud."

The campaign is asking people to help protect themselves from financial fraud by taking the following five simple steps:

1. Never disclose security details, such as your PIN and full password. It's never OK to reveal details.

2. Don't assume an email request or caller is genuine. People aren't always who they say they are.

3. Don"t be rushed. A genuine bank or organisation won't mind waiting to give you time to stop and think.

4. Listen to your instincts. If something feels wrong then it is usually right to pause and question it.

5. Stay in control. Have the confidence to refuse unusual requests for information.

Store staff upload CCTV images to social media in bid to track down brazen phone thieves

Report by Danielle Thompson

STAFF at an Ormskirk store are hoping that social media will help to track down three brazen thieves who made off with a number of mobile phones while they were busy serving customers.

Employees at the O2 shop in Church Street were shocked when three 'well-built' youths, all wearing tracksuits, entered the premises at just after noon on Wednesday, October 26 and stole a number of iPhones and an iPad.

The trio used penknives to cut four iPhones and an iPad from a display unit despite the best efforts of several staff members to stop them.

Now staff have circulated a CCTV image of the thieves on social media, including Twitter, and hope that information received may lead to their arrest.

Comment

One worker from the O2 store said: "Two staff members were serving customers and two others were standing at the front of the store awaiting customers to approach.

"Three large, well-built lads in tracksuits entered the store at 12.15pm, walked straight over to our iPad bay and within seconds, each took out a large penknife and cut 4 iPhones off the display, along with an iPad.

"The staff at the front of the store saw what was happening straight away and moved out of the way as they ran towards the girls to get out of the shop.

"The thieves then made a rude comment to the girls while walking away from the store with the devices in their possession.

The police would like to speak to these two men wearing tracksuits in this CCTV image

"The police were then called and the CCTV was reviewed."

A spokesperson for Lancashire Constabulary said: "Three men entered the shop and cut through security wires to remove mobile phones and an iPad before making off from the store.

"Anyone with information can contact police on 101."

Council offers pet owners advice on how to keep your pets safe on Bonfire Night

WEST Lancs Council is offering advice to pet owners in the borough on how to keep their animal safe from harm on Bonfire Night and prevent them from straying from home to avoid loud noises.

Councillor Kevin Wright, the council's portfolio holder for community safety, said: "Bonfire Night is a distressing time for animals, especially if fireworks are being set off over several evenings. Our tips aim to help to ensure that pets and their owners have a stress-free time."

The authority advises pet owners to remember to do the following:

- Close all windows and curtains and put on some music, or the television, to mask the sounds of fireworks.
- If your pet shows any sign of fear, try to ignore their behaviour unless there is imminent danger - for example if they are likely to self-harm.
- Do not fuss over or try to reassure your pet when they are frightened.
- Never show anger if they appear frightened - this will only convince them that there is something to be afraid of.
- Make sure they are kept in a secure and safe environment at all times, so that they cannot bolt and escape in reaction to a sudden noise.
- If you have had your pet micro-chipped/tattooed you will certainly improve the chances of a safe return if they do escape. All dogs should have a collar and tag providing details of ownership.
- Set a good example and ignore the fireworks' noise yourself.
- Exercise your pet during daylight hours - never take them for a walk when fireworks are being let off.
- If you know of another pet that is not scared by noises and gets on well with yours, then keeping the two together during the evenings may help your animal to realise there's no need to be afraid.
- If your pet has been distressed in the past, please don't ignore the problem and you can seek advice from your vet.

If you lose your dog, contact the Environmental Enforcement Team on 01695 577177. For more information, visit www.westlancs.gov.uk/dogs

Firework users are also being urged to act responsibly by using low-noise fireworks; picking up debris after it has cooled down and disposing of it safely; and following the safety guidelines for using fireworks at all times.

Hospice charity shop seeks volunteers

STAFF at a hospice which cares for patients with life-limiting conditions are urging potential volunteers to come forward to help to man their charity shop in Ormskirk.

St Joseph's Hospice in Thornton, popularly known as Jospice, cares for people from across the area with a wide range of life-limiting conditions, as well as supporting their families.

Staff are on the lookout for new volunteers who can spare a few hours a week to volunteer at their shop on Burscough Street.

Lesley Howarth, shop manager at the Jospice shop in Ormskirk, said: "We are on the lookout for anyone who can spare a little time to help out at our shop in Ormskirk. It's a really friendly place to be and volunteering is a great way to meet new people while supporting the hospice at the same time and all training is provided.

Flexible

"A typical shift in one of our shops is four hours, either morning or afternoon, although we are flexible to suit the availability of our volunteers so it's always worth getting in touch if you'd like to help and we can discuss the most suitable role to fit in with your availability."

To find out more about how you can support St Joseph's Hospice through volunteering, contact Siobhan Clinton on 0151 932 6046 or email siobhan.clinton@jospice.org.uk.

Mini ramblers stride out for charity

A TEAM of mini amblers put their best feet forward for charity when they raised £900 for disadvantaged children across the UK with a long autumn walk.

The reception and infant classes from Tarleton Community Primary School enjoyed a ramble to raise funds for BBC Children in Need, which supports organisations which help disadvantaged children and young people across the UK.

Staff at the school were inspired by the BBC's Countryfile programme presenters, who encouraged communities across the UK to hold their own Countryfile Ramble for the charity while also finding out more about their local area.

Linda Chicken, one of the school's ramble organisers, said: "Inspired by Countryfile, our Countryfile Ramble took them to Tarleton Woods and back, ably assisted by grandparents, aunties, uncles, brothers, sisters and teachers. The children made and decorated bags to collect autumn leaves, twigs, pine cones and whatever else took their eye"

Church pals' Kenya mission

Liz Wynne and Jenny Whitfield pictured with Asmall Primary School pupils and headteacher Michelle Speak (right)

by Danielle Thompson

TWO members of a local church congregation will be swapping West Lancashire for western Kenya on Saturday as part of an ongoing project to aid youngsters in the African country.

Pals Liz Wynne and Jenny Whitfield, who attend the Cottage Lane Mission in Ormskirk, will head out to the village of Bukoyani on Saturday (November 5).

For several decades now the mission has been involved in the remote rural district of western Kenya investing in development, poverty relief and education projects in partnership with the church there.

This year Liz, activities co-ordinator at Springfield Court Nursing Home in Aughton, and retired nursery school teacher Jenny will be visiting again, delivering resources and educational material to the schools in Bukoyani.

And they will work together with the village elders distributing seeds to the neediest families to enable them to grow their own food and cattle feed.

Liz and Jenny will also be donating clothes and funds raised for the village children by pupils at Asmall Primary School in Scarisbrick.

The pair were given a £1,000 donation by Springfield Court Nursing Home, which was then topped up by young bakers at the primary school, who raised £130 with a cake sake.

Liz Wynne said: "We are so delighted with all that the community of Ormskirk has done to support the village project which will improve the lives of children and families for years to come.

"Linda Burrows, the manager of Springfield Court Nursing home, gave us a cheque for £1,000 towards our project.

"We have also been fundraising for some weeks in the Ormskirk area, including bag-packing in Morrisons and we organised a musical evening at Cottage Lane Mission with the Melling Community Gospel Choir which raised more than £1,000 to purchase seeds for the villagers, most of whom eat only what they can grow. Crops regularly fail, leaving many families hungry and short of food.

"We have also raised money for educational resources for the two primary schools in the village and will be purchasing outoor play equipment and setting up a long-term feeding programme for the nursery children.

"Many people in Ormskirk have been so generous including Asmall Primary School, who baked and gifted us clothes that will be given to the village children.

"In the village we will be helping them to improve the health of their families by providing information about better nutrition and improving standards of education.

"We have paid for the travelling expenses ourselves so all of the funds raised will directly benefit those in need."

To help with the project, or to make a donation, call Liz on 01695 424344.

Dual-purpose plan submitted

BUILDERS' merchants Henry Alty Limited have submitted a planning application to West Lancs Council for a mixed development of 10 semi-detached 'affordable' homes and premises for a horticultural supplies business on land to the east of Boundary Lane, Hesketh Bank.

This would include building a warehouse, converting an existing building into offices and allowing for external storage, parking and access.

Residents have until Friday, November 18 to submit their views on the plans to the council.

Burscough East polling station under review

VOTERS living in part of the Burscough East award are being invited to have their say on where they would like to cast their votes as part of a review by West Lancs Council.

The authority is reviewing arrangements for voting in the BEC Polling District within Burscough East to ensure electors can vote conveniently and efficiently.

Electors are invited to give the council their views regarding the current location of polling places and suggest possible new ones. The review is looking at the buildings or areas of land in which polling stations are located. It is not looking to change the ward or polling district boundary.

The BEC Polling District area covers all properties to the east of Junction Lane, north of Briars Lane, west of the canal and south of the railway line, including the Heathfields estate, Rees Park, Abbey Dale, Gower Gardens and Alexander Close.

The current polling place for the BEC Polling District is located at the parish hall of St John's Catholic Church in Chapel Lane.

Borough returning officer, Kim Webber, said: "Making sure polling places are in the best possible locations for local people is very important, so we would encourage residents to give us their views on the current locations."

Plans of the polling districts, including current polling places, can be obtained by visiting www.westlancs.gov.uk/elections or from Electoral and Administration Services, West Lancashire Borough Council, 52 Derby Street, Ormskirk, L39 2DF.

Views should be sent to: Thomas Lynan, electoral and administration services manager, either in writing to the council at the above address or by email to thomas.lynan@westlancs.gov.uk (headed Interim Polling Review 2016) by Thursday, November 17.

HAVE A GREAT DAY OUT AT THE NORTH WEST BIRD WATCHING FESTIVAL

Tim Birkhead, Lloyd Buck, Biotope and Flight of the Swans' Sacha Dench are just some of the guest speakers visiting WWT Martin Mere Wetland Centre for the annual extravaganza: North West Bird Watching Festival on Saturday 12 & Sunday 13 November. The event is sponsored by Panasonic and all of the activities are included in the admission fee.

Whether you're a group of photographers, birdwatchers or you all just love the outdoors, there is something for everyone at this event in Burscough, Ormskirk.

You can attend a range of wildlife talks and seminars; talk to optic manufacturers and Panasonic; see hundreds of Whooper swans feed alongside shelduck, teal, wigeon and thousands of Pink-footed geese; pick up tips from photography seminars and workshops; see demonstrations; network with experts to learn more about our feathered friends; browse through lots of wildlife and bird watching goodies including clothing, books, carvings, wildlife holidays and much more; and round your day off with some delicious homemade cake at the Mere Side Cafe.

Highlights for your group at the bird watching festival at WWT Martin Mere include:

· Having access to the reserve from 8am, offering your group the chance to watch and photograph tens of thousands of pink-footed geese and Whooper swans as they awake and leave their roost

· See a display from the British Bird Carving Champion: David Clews

· Seeing the award winning spectacle of up to a thousand Whooper swans feeding right in front of them on the mere, as well as thousands of shelduck, wigeon and teal, at 3pm from the new 50m Discovery hide which also includes a warden's talk.

· Access to free ringing demonstration workshops allowing you to get up close to some wonderful species

· Walking with Reserve Manager Tom Clare to find the top ten species at Martin Mere at this time of year

· Testing your group's birdwatching skills by seeing who can spot the most species at Martin Mere between 9.30 – 3.30 on Saturday 12 November to win prizes.

· Attend 4K seminars with Panasonic and listen to a seminar from Ken Clark about photographing the UK's eagles.

For further event information, workshop bookings and a detailed list of exhibitors, please visit: www.wwt.org.uk/nwbf.

WWT Martin Mere is open for this event from 9.30am to 4.30pm and parking is free of charge. Situated off the A59, it is signposted from the M61, M58 and M6. The Centre is also accessible via the Southport to Manchester and the Liverpool to Preston line by train from Burscough Rail Stations. Visit the web site http://www.wwt.org.uk/martinmere/ to find out what's on all year round at Martin Mere and the other eight centres.

Council want your views on draft private sector housing strategy

WEST Lancs residents are being given the chance to comment on the council's draft Private Sector Housing Strategy 2017-2020.

While the council has its own social housing stock of more than 6,000 homes, it also has a private housing strategy which sets out a vision and an action plan to enable residents to live in decent homes which are in good repair and are safe, secure and warm.

The council arranged for a stock condition assessment of all privately owned and privately rented homes in the borough to be carried out. The report was published in April 2016 and its findings have been used to create the new draft strategy which will replace the council's existing strategy.

The council wants residents, private landlords and other stakeholders to give their views as part of the development of the new strategy and is doing a public consultation exercise to get people's opinions. Closing date for comments is Friday, November 18.

Councillor Kevin Wright, whose portfolio includes responsibility for the strategy, said: "Please take part in the consultation as this strategy is very important to the council and we want to ensure it reflects the requirements of local people."

Key objectives in the draft strategy include:

- To continue to raise the quality of existing private sector housing.
- To make best use of existing housing stock.
- To achieve the right supply of new homes including maximising affordable housing.
- To encourage investment to meet specialist housing requirements.

Councillor Kevin Wright

The strategy reflects the council's corporate priorities in the Council Plan which are being ambitious for the economy, environment and for local people's health and wellbeing.

For more information and to see the draft strategy visit www.westlancs.gov.uk/yourviews and click on the link consultation underway.

Comments can be sent by email to laura.lea@westlancs.gov or by post to: Private Sector Housing Team, 61 Westgate, Skelmersdale, WN8 8LP.

Bonfire Night trauma support for veterans

ALTHOUGH for many people Bonfire Night is an opportunity to enjoy the fireworks around a crackling fire, for some armed forces veterans, it can trigger service-related trauma and distress.

However, help is at hand - courtesy of Lancashire Care NHS Foundation Trust's Military Veterans' Service.

The trust urge people to remember that November 5 isn't always fun for everyone. The sight and loud explosion of fireworks can cause an array of emotional problems such as Post Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD), stress, depression and anxiety.

But the Military Veterans' service provides mental health support to those who have served in the armed forces and understand that people can often find it hard to ask for help.

Joe Crocock, Military Veterans' Service manager at the trust, said: "We understand that people across Lancashire look forward to Bonfire Night and the wonderful displays that take place. Whilst enjoying the evening we would like to remind people that there are veterans out there who are experiencing difficulties and unwanted flashbacks.

"We understand that the next few weeks can be very difficult for these people but nobody should suffer alone. We want to remind those struggling with their mental health and the loud bangs and bright flashes from the displays to get in touch with the service."

The Military Veterans' Service is a partnership between Lancashire Care and Pennine Care NHS Foundation Trust. The service provides a valuable insight and understanding of life both in and out of the forces as many staff are veterans themselves or have family members in the forces.

For more information, visit lancashirecare.nhs.uk/Military-Veterans or call 0300 323 0707.

Bramley's

COFFEE HOUSE BACK OPEN FOR BUSINESS!

In the early hours of Saturday morning 1st October, Bramley`s Coffee House experienced a mains leak from a water softener attached to a dishwasher in our first floor kitchen. We arrived at work at 7:55am to the sight of water coming through what was left of the ground floor ceilings and several inches of water on the ground floor. The damage to the ground floor area, counters, electrical equipment and fabric of the building was extensive, and with the help of the Fire Brigade we began the enormous clean up operation.

Now, just over a month later we are hoping to be fully open and back to normal on Tuesday 8th November.
To everyone that has been involved in helping us get back open, a very big thank you for your hard work.

Mark & Jen would also like to thank all our concerned customers for their kind comments and declarations of loyalty, we are looking forward to welcoming you back to Bramley's.

Champion LETTERS to the Editor

Clare House, 166 Lord Street, Southport PR9 0QA
tel 01704 392 400 email editor@champnews.com

Students are not as bad as portrayed - and we contribute a lot to the local economy

I AM writing in response to the letter by 'M.H.' of Ormskirk (October 19). As a proud Ormskirk resident and third-year student at Edge Hill University, I feel that in recent times we students have been given a bad name, called things like 'anti-social' and 'out of control', to quote your letter.

I have lived in Ormskirk for almost three years, in Edge Hill's halls of residence but mostly in the town itself. As a student who travelled from Northern Ireland to study here, I quickly fell in love with the picturesque town and all it had to offer, from the twice-weekly market days, to the countryside scenery and well-kept park.

Students understandably have gained quite a reputation for being a rowdy bunch, which I am not here to deny. I hold my hands up and say that I have been known to laugh a little too loudly after a night out.

However, not all of us students are obnoxious, disrespectful and foul-mouthed as I feel we are being portrayed to be. We are members of the Ormskirk community and contribute significantly to the economy of the town, shopping in many of the local retail and charity shops, as well as the restaurants, and yes, the various pubs and clubs.

Your letter suggests decreasing licensing hours for establishments within the town. I believe this can only be detrimental to the businesses themselves as many of them rely heavily on the patronage of students.

I feel as though there is fear within the local community about the growth and development of the university itself, with many wanting to stop it from growing any larger. I personally fail to see how the development of the university can be anything other than beneficial for Ormskirk.

I understand Ormskirk is a small town and many would like it to stay as such, however I feel as though we must move with the times, otherwise we risk causing even more disruption to your sleeping pattern. If you reduce the licensing hours of bars, pubs and clubs, whose primary source of income are students aged under 21 who on average are in classes for 12 hours a week or less, what are they going to do other than cause 'trouble?'

Honestly, we're just not that bad! Next time you're out in the town for a drink, have a look at who's serving you. Most likely a student, trying to earn some money to hold back their tidal wave of debt. Or maybe the face smiling at you from the till in the supermarket thinking about a well-deserved night out at the end of the week.

We worked hard to earn our places at Edge Hill University and we haven't stopped working yet.

S.M., Ormskirk

EACH week I read Letters to the Editor and there is nearly always something to do with Edge Hill students creating mayhem.

As a second-year myself, I have loved living in Ormskirk compared to the busy life of London. Edge Hill is a fabulous university, which attracts students from all over the UK. Many of the issues the Ormskirk neighbours are complaining about are normal for every university area.

Not every student is like this, after a night in the SU, most students go home and go to bed. It is only a small percentage of students who are creating carnage in Ormskirk and the only ones you may hear about.

B. Trober, by email

Fresher's Week Action Plan efforts undermined by late licensing approvals

DESPITE the excellent planning and the good work of the various agencies in producing 'The Fresher's Weeks Action Plan', which was produced to help both residents and new students during and after Fresher's weeks, the same old problems have emerged - anti-social behaviour i.e. drunken loutish behaviour although amongst a small percentage, quite large in the numbers involved.

The culprits that aided and abetted this behaviour being West Lancs Council licensing committee by allowing applications to enable various establishments to be open till 3.30am.

Surely they must have been aware of the efforts put in by the Action Committee which their inconsiderate actions have negated, the only winners of these actions being the anti-social licensees. Surely these licensees should be made to contribute to the costs involved?

The other thing which has created problems on a bigger scale than previous years is parking. Once more Edge Hill University is to blame for its continued failure to provide enough parking for its students. Perhaps it's time to look at a park and ride scheme to alleviate this. There is, I believe, land available to assist this project.

Ian Davis, chairman, New Ormskirk Residents Group, Westhead

Noise and disruption is worst we have ever experienced

I HAVE to agree with M.H's letter (October 19) with regards to students. We live on Wigan Road and never have we experienced the noise, parties and disruption that we have recently.

It's not just weekends either, it's every night of the week, you hear people on the way out, coming back home in the early hours only then to continue with parties till daylight.

It's hard enough with property prices in the area for us to move, so that is not an option.

This year we are finding this the worst and I'm also sick of waking up finding wheelie bins and shopping trollies all over the pavements, not to mention the cans and bottles!

Tired Ormskirk resident, by email

Residents group doesn't speak for all of us!

IN response to the letter by Colin Atkinson of Aughton Residents (October 19) it states that West Lancs Council had no choice but to challenge the decision to build on Parrs Lane/Prescot Road on behalf of, among other things, "the large majority of the local community."

As an Aughton resident who lives within 1.1 miles of Parrs Lane, I have never been asked my opinion by anyone from that group or any other group re: this development so where does Mr Atkinson get his figures from that the large majority of 8,000 Aughton residents agree with them? I highly doubt that upwards of 6,000 Aughton residents could care less about house building anywhere in Aughton, or at least not until it's in their backyard.

Speaking of backyards, may I suggest you change the name of your group? Aughton Residents Group suggests you represent all Aughton residents in relation to building on this site, well you don't represent me. I think the NIMBY group has a nice ring to it. How can people living on the very land that is planned for housing oppose further housing? This site is already surrounded by housing so won't increase the footprint of Aughton one inch, it will simply put a new house in your current view and that's the reason you fight.

My last point is by far the most important. Does the Aughton Residents (but not me) Group feel their NIMBY issue deserves the borough council's scant resources above Women's Refuge, the closure of vital bus routes or the maintenance of public highways and grass verges to ensure road and pedestrian safety?

Which begs the question, who's in charge of making this decision and how can they justify it in the current financial climate?

We need a council response to these letters not the NIMBY group!

Aughton resident, name & address supplied

Where are the wardens?

WHERE have all the traffic wardens gone in Ormksirk?

They could fill their books between 8.30am and 2.30pm on Tower Hill and Crosshall Brow with cars parked on pavements on both sides!

No-one can pass, buses coming along single file and where are the police?

Cars are parked all day on Tower Hill from the hospital and parked on Wigan Road on the pavements – which no-one can walk along!

Has the law been changed so that we now walk on the road and drive on the pavement?

Come on council, police and traffic wardens – please do something before it's too late and someone has been killed.

Mr W. Matthews, by email

Don't let them ruin our semi-rural area

I WOULD like to respond to the letter sent by Mrs Williams entitled 'The moaners don't have an exclusive right to live here' (October 12).

Given the amount of publicity that the Local Plan has received over the past five years, I'm surprised at the degree that Mrs Williams is misinformed.

She refers to Yew Tree Farm being a 'derelict site', whereas it is actually 152 acres of prime agricultural land that is, and always has been, farmed. The derelict old farmhouse itself accounts for possibly 0.5% of the site.

West Lancs Council stated 500 houses would be built, but the outline planning application refers to around 750 units. Who knows what the true, final figure will be?

Parrs Lane is yet another prime agricultural farmed site. I very much doubt if developers there display a social responsibility to deliver the amount of 'affordable housing' that she likes to think. Such development will strain services, and perhaps Mrs Williams hasn't noticed that despite council tax increasing, government continues ideological austerity which results in service provision reduction.

The infrastructure she mentions is NOT being improved, and now heavy rainfall results in flooding of surface water and sewerage. Is the answer to concrete over farmland?

I grew up in a semi-rural area, but what I face living in now is akin to a city suburb with Dickensian standards.

Highways chiefs say permit scheme has cut roadworks delays

Report by Danielle Thompson

LANCASHIRE County Council claim that motorists are spending less time delayed by roadworks in the county as a result of a scheme introduced by the authority to take a tighter grip on them.

Highways bosses introduced the system in spring 2015 which meant that anyone who wanted to dig up a road had to the get the council's permission first.

Now a review has shown that after one year the time taken to do roadworks had been cut by around 17%, with delays avoided by residents and businesses potentially worth £16.4m to the economy.

County Councillor John Fillis, Lancashire's cabinet member for highways and transport, said: "Councils and utility companies have always had the right to do roadworks, but now everyone has to get permission beforehand rather than simply give notice of what they're intending to do.

"On the face of it that's quite a small change but it makes a big difference because now our highway regulation team can look at what is being proposed and make improvements before agreeing that the work can go ahead.

The county council say their permit scheme has helped to speed up roadworks in Lancashire

Resolved

"This extra co-ordination often means that works are completed more quickly, and managed more closely, which reduces the impact on traffic.

"We've found that this new system has resulted on average in a 17% reduction in the length of time roadworks take, which has equated to them being in place for around 28,000 fewer days over the course of a year.

"Everyone relies on our roads, and how well they function can have a major impact on businesses. We had to present a business case to the Secretary of State to agree the permit scheme, and an assessment of the impact after the first year has calculated that the value to our economy of fewer delays could be as much as £16.4m."

The highway regulation and inspection team co-ordinates roadworks and carries out site visits once they begin, ensuring that any problems are picked up and resolved. A charge is made for each permit issued, which covers the cost of administrating the scheme. More than 33,000 permits were issued between February 2015 and February 2016.

Most permits were issued to utilities companies to carry out work on water, communications, gas and electricity infrastructure. The council's own highways team also has to apply for permits to carry out repairs and improvements to the roads, which allows better coordination between all activities taking place across the road network.

Time to nominate your healthcare 'heroes' for special recognition

Chance to pay tribute to hard-working professionals who go the 'extra mile'

Report by Henry James

RESIDENTS in Lancashire are once again being given the chance to nominate the health professionals who they believe deserve recognition for their hard work in the annual People's Choice Award.

The award, organised by Lancashire Care NHS Foundation Trust, allows members of the public to nominate a team, individual or service who they feel should be recognised for their hard work and determination.

Nominees will typically be high-performing, delivering over and above expectations and always striving for improvement.

Organisers are looking for nominations that are an inspiration to others, demonstrate commitment and determination and always go that extra mile to get excellent results.

The trust holds an annual awards ceremony to celebrate the success of its members of staff, As part of ceremony, local residents are invited to put forward their nominations for this year's People's Choice Award.

Heather Tierney-Moore, chief executive at Lancashire Care NHS Foundation Trust

The winner will be announced in March next year at the awards ceremony at the Mercure Blackburn Dunkenhalgh Hotel and Spa

Heather Tierney-Moore, chief executive at Lancashire Care NHS Foundation Trust, said: "The People's Choice Award is really special as it is the one award that is decided by members of the public.

"We believe that it is important for the people who receive our care to be given an opportunity to acknowledge the great work that is going on across Lancashire.

Excellent

"We know that there are lots of staff out there who are delivering excellent, compassionate care and we hope that the public can spare five minutes of their time to submit a nomination for an individual or team that has truly made a difference to their lives."

To nominate visit www.lancashirecare.nhs.uk/Peoples-Choice-2017 and complete an online form. If you do not have access to a computer, you can contact the communications team on 01772 695384 to request a hard copy form.

Deadline for nominations is Wednesday, November 30 and the shortlist will be announced in January when members of the public can vote for who they would like to win.

Quit Squad launch Mouth Cancer Action Month campaign

Report by Henry James

NOVEMBER is Mouth Cancer Action Month and members of Lancashire's Quit Squad are calling on people who smoke, vape or chew to realise that using tobacco is a lifestyle choice which significantly increases their risk of developing the disease.

Around one in five people in the UK currently smoke and two thirds of mouth cancer cases are linked to smoking tobacco.

Recent figures show that the condition has increased by a third in the last decade and experts predict this will continue to increase in coming years.

As a result, the Quit Squad, which is delivered by Lancashire Care NHS Foundation Trust and funded by Lancashire County Council, is encouraging people who smoke, vape or chew to contact the service in order to benefit from free specialist advice.

People are up to four times more likely to quit with the help of stop smoking aids combined with specialist help and support.

Helen Hatcher from the Quit Squad said: "In 2011 nearly 7,000 people were diagnosed with mouth cancer in the UK. That's a staggering 18 people each day. The condition is on the increase and experts say it will continue over the coming years with men more at risk than women. More worrying is that two thirds of cases are linked to the use of tobacco.

"A morning cigarette doubles the chances of developing the disease and smokers put themselves at almost three times higher risk of developing mouth cancer. People who chew tobacco such as paan and niswar are increasing their risk of developing mouth cancer by 15 times.

Lancashire's Quit Squad say Mouth Cancer Action Month is an ideal time to break the tobacco habit

"The Quit Squad is here to help. You don't have to carry the burden of quitting on your own - ex-smokers reduce their risk of developing mouth cancers by a third. It has been shown that you are more likely to quit if you get the right support."

Chewing smokeless tobacco, such as paan, gutkha and betel leaf, is popular in South Asian communities, but all forms of tobacco can harm your health.

Using smokeless tobacco raises the risk of mouth cancer and oesophageal cancer; even chewing betel itself without tobacco can raise the risk of cancer.

In addition to drop-in clinics (for which no appointments are required) and one-to-one sessions, the Quit Squad also offers group sessions in the community.

For further details, telephone 0800 3286297, visit www.quitsquad.nhs.uk, or follow the Quit Squad on Twitter @LancashireCare #QuitSquad.

For further information on Smoke Free Pledges, telephone 01706 871740 or visit www.lancashiresmokefreehomes.co.uk.

Opportunities to explore borough's parks and countryside this autumn

THERE is a chance to discover the wonders of autumn by joining in with one of the free Junior Rangers Club Autumnwatch events being organised in parks across West Lancashire during November.

The events are being organised by West Lancs Council's Parks and Countryside Ranger Service and will be taking a look at how the borough's wildlife adapts to changes in the weather and temperature at this time of year.

There will also be handy hints and tips to help you to provide some much-needed help to the wildlife in your garden this winter.

All the events start at 2pm on the following dates and at the venues listed:

Stanley Coronation Park, Skelmersdale, Wednesday, November 2.

Coronation Park, Ormskirk, Thursday, November 3.

Richmond Park, Burscough, Friday, November 4.

Junior Rangers events are open to children aged between five and 12. Children under eight years of age must be accompanied by an adult.

Booking is required by contacting the Ranger Service on 01695 622794 or by email at beacon.park@westlancs.gov.uk.

Councillor Yvonne Gagen, West Lancs Council's cabinet member for leisure, said: "The Junior Rangers Autumnwatch events kick off another month of great activities in West Lancashire parks. Our local wildlife faces a huge struggle with climatic changes at this time of year and these events are an excellent way to find out how you can do your bit to help, so make sure you get your children's places booked."

As well as Junior Rangers activities there are other Parks and Countryside events for residents to get involved with.

The first is a four to six-mile health walk exploring the beautiful countryside within the borough. These monthly walks are designed for people who want to get out and explore the local countryside, and are also for people returning to exercise or taking the first steps towards a healthier lifestyle.

Coronation Park, Ormskirk

Those interested should meet at Platts Lane Lake, Burscough on Monday, November 7 at 9.50am for a 10am start. No booking is required.

Volunteers can also help expand and link up the woodlands by helping the rangers plant some trees at Coronation Park, Ormskirk, on Saturday, November 26, and Beacon Country Park on Sunday, November 27.

Booking is required for both these activities. Please contact Beacon Country Park for details on 01695 622794 or by emailing beacon.park@westlancs.gov.uk.

Both events will run from 1 to 3pm.

Volunteers are asked to meet at the Ranger's office in the bowling hut in Coronation Park for the event on November 26 and the Ranger Station at Beacon Country Park for the activity on November 27. Children under 16 must be accompanied by an adult at these events.

Please wear suitable footwear and clothing for the weather and ground conditions at all these outdoor activities.

For more information on West Lancs Council leisure events visit www.westlancs.gov.uk/events.

Canny canines can make us realise we're not as smart as we'd like to think we are!

JUST let me get one thing off my chest and I'll put Mr Grumpy back into his box for a while – promise!

So can anyone tell me where this awful new habit of answering almost any question with the prefix 'so' originated? I reckon it must be down either to oddball academics or pop culture – but whatever, it's simply irritating.

This habit seems to have become all-pervasive recently. Ask someone where they are going for their holidays and it seems de-rigour these days to receive the answer: "So, we're off to ….." Ask why they oppose plans for, say, fracking in the local park, "So, it'll frighten the ducks."

I suppose I could simply ask anyone guilty of inserting this silly, unnecessary extra word, except they would almost certainly reply: "So....."

So anyway, now I can get on with being Mr Nice Guy.

I reckon that most of us walk around not using a sense that dogs (and I think most other mammals) seem to possess. Or rather, perhaps a whole range of senses that stem perhaps from not being as clever as we think we are.

When I'm out walking with my Tina, she can tell me all kinds of things that I wouldn't normally be able to work out for myself.

Walk past a home where a dog is barking inside. Sometimes Tina will simply keep trotting along, presumably because she knows the bark signifies pleasure or play – certainly not a threat. Another house, another dog bark – and Tina will think it only right and proper to make a reply. Probably that bark signified a challenge of some sort.

The same thing happens walking the canal bank. A dog, large or small doesn't seem to matter, might be running up and down at the bottom of its garden, barking merrily. Again, sometimes Tina will trundle by and ignore the yapping animal like the idle wind which she regardeth not.

And I mean ignore. The other dog might just as well not be there at all.

But another garden, another dog, and another bark. You might as well light the blue touchpaper and stand well back. Whatever it is that this dog is saying, it is certainly upsetting Tina, who would, I am sure, had she been a different breed of dog, have jumped into the water in order to swim across and sort this cheeky animal out!

Wisdom

Then there are things dogs learn that we could if we wanted (some might say needed) to. Take Tina for a night-time walk through residential streets.

Now Tina is a conventionally thinking dog in many ways – she instinctively dislikes cats for instance. And one thing she learned very early in her life was that, particularly on cold winters' nights, cats can be found beneath parked cars. She will duck her head to have a look when she comes to vehicles at the kerbside.

Which goes to show feline wisdom as well. They have learned that a recently parked vehicle still has a hot engine and beneath this is a good spot to be when the weather threatens to freeze one's tail off.

It also shows that Tina isn't quite as clever as she thinks she is. She can (and does) have a bark at the cat. But she cannot get at it, and the offending animal can sit in the warmth, spitting defiance in total safety.

Apart from animals of the feline persuasion, Tina also has a strong aversion to squirrels. Some folk call them 'tree rats', which personally I find rather unfair, but certainly I reckon Tina would agree with them.

So again, mainly on winter evenings, I can be walking along a residential road with Tina trotting companionably at my side, when suddenly she will lurch sideways at something she finds of interest beneath the neatly-clipped hedge. I cannot say I've ever discovered the cause of this sudden flurry of action – but I rather smell a rat, literally.

Which actually reminds me of a November holiday in Norfolk a few years ago.

Tina and I were walking down a country lane at night. No moon, black as pitch. But there was a solitary one-bulb street lamp and I paused to check the time. Glancing down, I found Tina was proudly carrying a dead rabbit in her mouth.

Obviously road kill and fortunately she dropped it on command. But she had never even broken step. She must obviously simply have scooped it up as she walked.

Now there's one skill I can certainly do without.

Have-a-go gang hot-foot it to raise £6,000 for charity

MORE than 30 intrepid fundraisers proved they could definitely 'stand the heat' when they walked over hot coals to raise money for a West Lancashire-based charity for children and young adults with disabilities.

The Rainbow House Fire Walk event raised more than £6,000 for the Mawdesley-based conductive education centre.

After being trained by staff from fire walk company B.L.A.Z.E, the participants - including representatives of companies Preston Fire & Security and S&S Northern, along with Rainbow House staff and families who attend the centre - braved the coals in order to raise vital funds for the charity.

The Fire Walk was a new event for Rainbow House and, in addition to being able to take part in the shortest sponsored walk ever, participants and spectators enjoyed music and entertainment by talented teenager singer and guitarist Connor Banks, 15, who kindly donated his time. Food and refreshments were also available at extra cost.

Rainbow House chief executive, Carole Cochrane, said, "This was a new event for Rainbow House and we are delighted with the result which helped us raise funds needed for us to continue and develop our services for children with neurological conditions. Our thanks go to Preston Fire and Security who supported the event and to everyone who took part."

Guest takes Breathe Easy group on a 'Lung Safari'!

MEMBERS of the West Lancashire and Southport Breathe Easy group were taken on a 'Lung Safari' at their latest meeting - courtesy of guest speaker, Dr Sasha Youzguin.

Dr Youzgiun, a respiratory consultant at Southport Hospital, presented a talk entitled 'A Journey Through Our Lungs and the Whole Respiratory System' at the meeting at the Girl Guide HQ in Green Lane, Ormskirk.

Patricia Ireland, from the Breathe Easy group, said: "What an interesting journey it was too, through our trachea, bronchial tree and eventually to the alveoli, the bunches of tiny air bubbles where the oxygen exchange takes place!

Dr Youzguin

"Dr Youzguin spoke in detail yet skilfully, so that it was understandable to his audience.

"He explained how the muscles work in the chest, what we inhale from the atmosphere, how the mucus escalator operates to clear the lungs.

"Then in depth - and especially pertinent to our members - explored what if something in this system goes wrong and our defence airways become weakened and inflammed.

"Dr Youzguin went on to carefully describe the most common lung diseases and give detailed advice on managing these as best as possible.

"He also very kindly took time to answer the questions raised by our members."

The group's next meeting, to be held on Monday, November 21, is the annual general meeting and lunch buffet to celebrate the 15th anniversary since the group's inception.

This will begin at 11.15am at the Girl Guide HQ in Green Lane, Ormskirk, next door to the rugby club where free parking is available.

'Our' Jim is shortlisted for regional media award

ONE Man and his Dog columnist, Jim Sharpe, has been shortlisted for a regional media award.

Jim, who has reported for the Aintree and Maghull Champion for more than 20 years, has beaten stiff competition to reach the final four of the nominations in the O2 Media Awards 'Stand Out' category - an award which recognises outstanding achievement among individuals.

Jim suffered a heart attack in May which left him in an induced coma in Aintree Hospital for five days. Against the odds, he recovered and still managed to submit his One Man and his Dog column from his hospital bed - just a day after coming out of his induced coma so as not to miss the next edition of the Champion.

Such is his standing in the community, Jim was visited in hospital by high-ranking police officials, leading councillors and the Mayor of Maghull, who had made him cakes!

Jim was honoured for his outstanding contribution to the community in December 2006 when, at Maghull Town Council's Annual Civic Award Evening, a special presentation was made to him for his 'many years of unbiased and factual reporting of events and issues in the town.'

The Champion has also been shortlisted in the Free Distribution Newspaper category of the O2 Media Awards which will be held at Chester Racecourse on Thursday, November 10.

'Double-check your decorators' call

A NATIONAL trade body is urging householders in West Lancashire to double check the credentials of painters and decorators before agreeing to have any work carried out.

According to figures released by the Painting and Decorating Association the number of contractors illegally using a special quality marque has grown dramatically in recent months.

Now PDA officials are calling for extra vigilance in a bid to stamp out what they termed 'logo abuse'.

The Painting and Decorating Association logo

Chief executive Neil Ogilvie said: "Our logo is also our quality marque which stands for confidence, professionalism and integrity and as long-standing representatives of the highest standards in painting and decorating, it's not surprising that many companies aspire to join us.

"One of the most common issues raised to us is abuse of the association's logo. There are tradesmen who imply they're in the PDA without fulfilling our strict criteria for membership, so it's important to check out their credentials.

"People can look on our website or contact us for verification."

The PDA requires members to have no less than five years of experience as a painter and decorator. They must provide references and agree to have their work examined independently.

College students tackle National Citizen Service Challenge

MORE than 50 West Lancashire College students who are studying health and social care, applied science, and childcare, travelled to Rock UK Outdoor Activity Centre in Newcastleton, Scotland as part of a four-day residential trip for phase one of the National Citizen Service Challenge.

National Citizen Service (NCS) is the fastest growing youth movement for students aged 15 to 17 since the Scouts began and the scheme was organised with the help of Blackburn Community Trust, part of the national movement of NCS.

NCS has had a huge impact on young people and communities. It is a once-in-a-lifetime experience that can help fast-track young people's futures as they learn new skills for work and life, enhance their CVs, and are given the chance to build their confidence and pick up leadership skills.

The West Lancs College students experienced a wide range of activities including canoeing, raft building, abseiling, mountain climbing, zip wire and archery.

Health and social care student, Jess Butler commented: "Going on the residential trip was a brilliant experience. I was able to express myself, have fun and get involved with activities that were out of my comfort zone. I loved it!"

The students recently completed phase two of the project which focuses on the individual's personal and professional development.

Phase three is now underway, which involves the students planning and delivering a social action project which must benefit the local community.

Inspirational

This final phase will provide an opportunity for the students to gain valuable volunteering experience and team-building skills, while enriching the lives of others. Upon competition of phase three, students will attend a graduation evening at Blackburn Rovers FC to recognise and celebrate their achievements throughout the challenge.

Rebecca Connick Sports and enrichment co-ordinator, Rebecca Connick, said: "The entire programme has been inspirational for all those involved. "Due to its success, West Lancashire College is now offering all 16 and 17-year-old students the opportunity to complete NCS during their time at college and positively improve our community."

School fundraiser set to light up sky

THE Parents Teacher Friends Association (PTFA) at Halsall St Cuthbert's CE Primary School are holding their annual Halsall Bonfire Party in the grounds of the school in New Street on Saturday, November 5.

The event gets underway at 6pm with the firework display starting at 7.15pm.

There will also be barbecue, hot-pot, soup, sweets, drinks and candy-floss stalls available, plus a DJ.

Entry costs £5 for adults, £1 for students and children and all proceeds will go towards funding more equipment for the school.

Search for potential child prodigies

THE parents of bright sparks in West Lancs are being urged to enter them into a national search to find child geniuses!

Researchers from TV production company Wall to Wall are looking for gifted and talented children to take part in an open day workshop of quick-fire quizzes and Mensa challenges, led by the producers of TV show Child Genius.

The Channel 4 programme explores the lives of gifted children and their families and follows the final 16 competitors as they bid to be crowned 'Britain's cleverest youngster'.

If your child is aged between eight and 12 and you believe that they could be right for the 2017 show, email child.genius@wall-towall.co.uk or call 020 7241 9225.

Police campaign to raise awareness of modern slavery

Report by Danielle Thompson

OFFICERS from across Lancashire Constabulary have taken part in a week-long project aimed at raising awareness of modern slavery.

As part of the campaign officers in West Lancashire, Preston, Chorley and South Ribble visited car washes, takeaways and a nail bar.

Detectives, members of neighbourhood police teams and officers from HM Revenue and Customs and Immigration Enforcement spoke to foreign nationals to determine whether they had been trafficked or forced to work against their will.

Although no instances of slavery or trafficking were uncovered, key premises will continue to be monitored and hotel managers were offered information on how to report suspicions or incidents to police.

As well as the checks, the force also held its first modern slavery conference in Blackburn attended by more than 130 front-line workers from the NHS, local authorities, children's services, probation and visitors from Romanian charities.

Detective Sergeant Tony Atkins, one of the force's leads working to tackle modern slavery, said: "It has been a really successful week and has enabled us to gather a large amount of intelligence to help us to build up a picture of activity across the county.

"Despite the fact that no slavery or trafficking offences were uncovered, our activity shows our commitment to rooting out this type of crime and we will continue to target those who choose to exploit others.

"Continued agency collaboration will enable us to combat the threat of trafficking and slavery across Lancashire."

To raise concerns about trafficking or slavery call the police on 101 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Jane's 'royal' recognition

A LANCASHIRE nurse who works with people with learning disabilities has been recognised for her efforts in delivering patient-centred community care.

Jane Baulcombe (pictured), a community nurse in Lancashire Care NHS Foundation Trust's Learning Disability Service, has been given the prestigious Queen's Nurse title, awarded to professionals who are committed to high standards of practice, by the Queen's Nursing Institute.

Jane, who began working as a community nurse more than 25 years ago, has a history of working collaboratively with other health professionals to highlight the inequalities in health experienced by people with learning disabilities.

She said: "It is an honour to be awarded the title of Queen's Nurse. It makes me proud to know my contributions make a real difference to people's lives. I hope gaining this award will promote recognition of the positive contribution community learning disability nurses make toward enhancing the quality of health and life of the people they care for and support."

Scouts praised for 'making a difference'

ADVENTURER and Chief Scout Bear Grylls has declared himself "super-proud" of Scouts in West Lancs for making a difference in their community.

He wrote to the leaders of the 29th Ormskirk Scouts, who are based in Burscough, to praise the work done by the group as part of the A Million Hands Project.

This is an ongoing community impact project which aims to tackle a range of issues including mental health, clean water and sanitation problems, as well as supporting disabled people and sufferers of dementia.

Bear Grylls said: "I'm super proud of the difference 29th Ormskirk Scouts are making in their local community. This year the 29th Ormskirk Scouts has chosen to focus on clean water. This means, thanks to Scouting's award-winning campaign, A Million Hands, they have spent time learning about the issue, finding out about the people it affects and taking meaningful action to improve and support their quality of life in Ormskirk.

"I would also like to recognise the volunteers at the 29th Ormskirk group for their dedication each week to giving Scouts the chance to have fun, adventure and take part in life-changing opportunities through the A Million Hands project.

"A Million Hands has just celebrated its first anniversary and it's down to the 200,000 members who have signed up to take part, such as the 29th Ormskirk Scouts, that the past year has been such a success.

"I would like to say 'A Million Thanks' to these incredible Scouts. They really are shining lights in their community."

Region's night workers on the rise

ANALYSIS published by the TUC shows that the number of people who work night shifts in the North West increased by 16,944 (5%) between 2011 and 2016 to 354,735.

One in ten (13%) employees in the North West now regularly do night work.

And the TUC says that proposals for a seven-day NHS are likely to lead to further increases in night work in coming years.

Men have taken the lion's share of the extra night working (55%). Between 2011 and 2016 the number of men regularly doing night work in the North West increased by 9,404, while for women it increased by 7,540.

One in seven working men in the North West now work night shifts, along with one in 10 women.

Care workers (52,676) are the largest group of night workers in the North West, followed by nurses and midwives (23,256).

Across the UK, the age group with the highest proportion of night workers is 45-49. They account for one in eight of those who usually work nights.

Male night workers are most likely to be aged between 45 and 49. However, the most common age group for women night workers is 25-29.

TUC regional secretary Lynn Collins said: "Whether it's nurses looking after patients, or police officers keeping our streets safe, we all depend on the region's army of night-workers.

TUC regional secretary Lynn Collins

"Night work is hard and can disrupt family life. So we must show our appreciation for the sacrifices night workers make by ensuring they have good rights and protections at work.

"Employers must play fair and play safe, or public safety will be put at risk and the families of night workers will suffer."

The negative health impacts of night work include heightened risks of cardiovascular disease, diabetes and depression. However, less attention has been given to the impacts on home life and relationships.

The TUC does not oppose night working, but argues that employers must properly consider and address its impact on staff. Decisions to extend night working should always involve talks with unions.

The TUC recommends the following:

- Employers and unions should ensure that night working is only introduced where necessary.
- Where night working is introduced into a workplace, no existing workers should be forced to work nights.
- Shift patterns should be negotiated between unions and employers.
- Workers should have some element of control over their rotas so that they can ensure that the shifts they work are best suited to their individual circumstances.
- Workers should always have sufficient notice of their shift patterns so they can make arrangements well in advance. Changes at short notice should be avoided.
- The remuneration paid to those working nights should properly reflect the likely additional costs of childcare and inconvenience that night shifts can entail.

Charity set to launch monthly attic sale

STAFF at an older people's charity are urging West Lancs residents to enjoy hunting a bargain for a good cause.

Age UK Lancashire volunteers are launching a new monthly attic sale at the Wellbeing Centre on Moorgate in Ormskirk on the first Saturday of every month from 1 to 4pm, starting on Saturday, November 5.

All the money raised from stall hire will go to Age UK Lancashire to help pay for the unfunded projects delivered to help older people in the county, or potential shoppers can reserve their own stall if they wish for £5 and get selling instead!

Centre manager, Gary Heron said: "We know how popular these types of days are and it's a great opportunity to come and sell some items or find a bargain. The centre is perfect for this event especially now winter is drawing in so we hope plenty of people get involved."

For more information or to book a stall call 01695 586515 or visit the centre.

WIN! tickets for The Full Monty

Chance to win one of five pairs to see Liverpool Empire show

Gary Lucy (3rd from right) and fellow cast members of The Full Monty

GARY Lucy is returning to the Liverpool Empire with the successful national tour of The Full Monty - and the Champion has five pairs of tickets to give away to readers!

The former EastEnders and Hollyoaks star plays Gaz in the production which can be seen at the Empire from Monday, November 7 to Saturday, November 12.

Gary said: "I appeared for the first time at the Liverpool Empire in 2014 in this show. Liverpool is an amazing place and I have a great affinity with the city.

"I filmed Hollyoaks there and lived there for four years from 17 to 21. I love Liverpool and it is good to go back there. The people enjoy a laugh and it is a great night out."

The Full Monty, a British film about six out-of-work Sheffield steelworkers who form a male striptease act to make money, was released in 1997 and it has since become among the most successful films made in this country.

Simon Beaufoy, the Oscar- and BAFTA-winning writer of the film, has adapted his own screenplay for this stage production, which features the iconic songs from the film by Donna Summer, Hot Chocolate and Tom Jones.

"There are plenty of laughs and some really serious moments," Gary added. "It is two hours of entertainment."

"Simon has given some of the characters more of a role in the stage show. He has kept all the iconic moments from the film like the dole queue scene, the strip and the suicide attempt."

Gary is playing the role made famous by Robert Carlyle in the film. He is joined by Andrew Dunn as Gerald, Louis Emerick as Horse, Chris Fountain as Guy and Kai Owen as Dave. Anthony Lewis is now playing the role of Lomper. Gary Lucy is best known for his roles as Danny Pennant in EastEnders, PC Will Fletcher in The Bill, Kyle Pascoe in Footballers' Wives and Luke Morgan in Hollyoaks, and was a past winner of Dancing on Ice. His last TV role was in Casualty.

To be in with a chance of winning the tickets, simply answer the following question:

Q: Who does Gary Lucy play in The Full Monty?

Email your answer to henry.james@champnews.com and don't forget to include your name, address and a daytime contact phone number. The closing date is noon on Friday, November 4. Usual Champion competition rules apply. Editor's decision is final.

Novice bakers rise to charity challenge

STAFF at a financial firm whisked up £140 for charity when they held their own Bake-Off inspired challenge.

Keen novice bakers from Burscough-based Acumen Financial Partnership rose to the challenge when they swapped calculators for kitchen scales to raise money for Jeans for Genes, which funds a range of initiatives to improve the lives of children affected by a genetic disorder.

Stepping in for Mary Berry and Paul Hollywood for the Burscough Bake Off, Acumen's alternative to the BBC's Great British Bake Off, were the staff from Merlin Bakery Café whose bread has won a world baking award.

Acumen's managing director, Angela Maher, said: "The cakes were judged anonymously and, after much deliberation, the Burscough Bake Off title was awarded to our director, Jon Landy, with his rather impressive Victoria sponge cake. It was great fun and we raised £140 for a very worthy children's charity."

Staff at the firm have also been supporting accounts manager Cathy Holme and her family, who took part in the Claire House Splash Dash in Liverpool, as well as raising hundreds of pounds for the Mayor of West Lancashire's Charity Appeal.

The firm donated a guitar from Harmonics Music for auction to raise funds for the four local charities supported by Councillor Liz Savage - Ormskirk Hospital's Neo Natal Unit; The Birchwood Centre; The Artz Centre in Birch Green and The Civic in Ormskirk.

ADVERTISING FEATURE

Do you want to save money and stay warm this winter?

The Dreaded Winter Switch On

We are all sad to wave the summer goodbye. Gone are the breezy bright days of hanging our washing on the line and opening our windows at night to let in a soft breeze. We now look forward to the cold winter days and nights with our heating on full blast to dry off our clothes and keep our homes snug and warm, but at what cost

In a typical UK household 60% of our fuel bills are spent on providing heating in our home. As heating accounts for more than half of our energy bills surely there is something we can do to save money on this while still keeping our homes warm and comfortable throughout the harsh winter ahead.

We personally are great supporters of the household bill payer who is still refusing to turn that boiler dial on and crank up the thermostat Do you have a jumper on No well there you go then," however there comes a time when we can no longer avoid this as winter sets in and the days and nights become bitter. Bring on the dreaded Switch on (no not the Christmas lights the central heating)

Take your boiler out for a spin

Like a car that has been left out for a while in a garage or up a drive, we fire it up and take it for a much needed spin. We give it what it needs, oil, petrol just a bit of TLC. What we never consider is our boilers are exactly the same. After months of being sidelined, they are then fired up and expected to heat our homes efficiently and as cost effectively as possible throughout the winter months.

Maintaining your boiler and heating system annually ensures it is running to its full potential and can avoid any unexpected breakdown costs. Even if you think your boiler is running fine and in good working order, by having an annual service this could avoid costly replacements of parts by ensuring they are maintained and kept in good working order.

Boiler services are usually an inexpensive way to make sure you are getting the most from your heating system and help you save money on your energy bills. Make sure a professional gas engineer listed in the gas safe register services your boiler.

An efficient heating system including heating controls can save you up to £350 per year. If your boiler is old and not running effectively this could be wasting your money and could also potentially become unsafe.

How you can help yourself

- Checking Radiators for cold spots - Cold spots indicate trapped air, trapped air puts extra strain on your heating system preventing your heating from working efficiently. 'Bleeding' your radiators will release this trapped air ridding of any cold spots.
- Check the Pressure - Boilers loose pressure over time, which can cause them to run inefficiently. Check your boilers pressure gauge and top it up (refer to your boilers manual)
- Heating controls - If correctly installed and set up can save you between £75-£155 per year. A good tip to keep in mind is by setting your room thermostat one degree lower can save you £80-£85 per year
- Thermostatic Radiator Valves (or TRV'S) - these are fitted to your radiators and allow you to turn the heat of the radiator up or down. This is an easy way to heat each room accordingly, saving you money.

Group of six staging concert for Queenscourt

A GROUP of six who perform concerts to raise money for local good causes are staging a night this Friday (November 4) to raise money for Queenscourt Hospice in Southport and the Alan Moremont Memorial Fund.

The concert, which is called Pic n Mix, is at the Stanley Club on Liverpool Road North, Burscough at 7.30pm.

The group consists of Heather Gawne, a retired chiropodist from Burscough; Charlotte Taylor, a nursery worker; Jenny Armstrong, a psychologist; Suzanne Gawne, a consultant breast surgeon; Gary Simpson, a local GP and Simon Taylor, a teacher. Call 01704 892904.

Performer to deliver one-woman show at University

DEBS Newbold, a celebrated performer and Shakespeare's Globe storyteller, is to deliver a moving and funny new one-woman show about loving someone who isn't dead but who isn't living either.

With just her voice, a mic, a loop pedal, and snatches of piano phrases from Nils Frahm, Debs creates a cinematic performance, using simple sounds to create textured soundscapes that transport the audience into the mind of a coma patient, where he lives in his own world inside Vincent van Gogh's Bedroom in Arles, and the real world inhabited by the daughter he left behind.

Debs Newbold

Lost in Blue, which is directed by John Wright, will be at The Arts Centre, at Edge Hill University on Tuesday, November 8.

A man, deep in a coma, hides out in the Arles bedroom of Vincent van Gogh while his teenage daughter struggles to understand her part in the accident that put him there. Paintings, pigeon racing and a family about to implode meet in this vital, gripping story, told using innovative sound technology, and gate-crashed by Vincent himself - a dynamic fusion of spoken word and performance storytelling by one of the UK's most acclaimed performers.

Debs Newbold said: "This show started off as a niggling thought about the voice.

"I'd just lost my nan, who had an extraordinary voice, a cheeky Brum-Irish lilt totally unique to her. I knew I had a recording of her voice on a minidisc (remember those?), but it was ages before I could bring myself to listen to it.

"Hearing the recorded voice of a loved one who has died is as near to an encounter with a ghost as I can imagine. It's as if they inhabit the air in the room with you for a moment, and I began to get ideas about a person who manages to be both absent and present at the same time. That's where the image of a man in a coma came from. I saw him and I saw his daughter, like a painting.

"He lying on a bed, she looking out of a window, waiting. Another woman too, unable to speak. And that's where it began."

Debs Newbold's storytelling brings together the poetic and the irreverent, the epic and the everyday.

She is one of the UK's fastest rising performance storytellers, regularly playing venues such as the Royal Opera House, the British Library, the Southbank Centre, and the RSC.

IN MEMORIAM

JAMES EDWARDS

3rd November 2015

Another year has come and you're still so far away,
You're always in our hearts, each and every day.
Love and miss you Dad,
love Sheila, Tony, Amanda, Anthony, Derek and Charlotte
xx

JAMES EDWARDS

3rd November 2015
Dearly missed,
1 year on.
The tears in my eyes I can wipe away,
But the ache in my heart will always stay.
I miss you so much Dad,
Your loving Daughter Trish

PUBLIC NOTICES

LANCASHIRE COUNTY COUNCIL
(COTTAGE LANE, ORMSKIRK, WEST LANCASHIRE BOROUGH)
(TEMPORARY PROHIBITION OF THROUGH TRAFFIC) ORDER 2016

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Lancashire County Council intend to make an Order under Section 14(1) (a) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, as amended, the effect of which will be to temporarily prohibit traffic on the roads set out in this notice.

1. No person shall cause any motor vehicle to proceed over that length of Cottage Lane, from its junction with Halsall Lane, to its junction with A59 Holborn Hill in the borough of West Lancashire.

2. The prohibition will be operative daily from 0700 hours on Monday 7th November 2016 until 1700 hours on Friday 18th November 2016 or, until completion of the works within this period.

3. An alternative route for vehicular traffic affected by the closure is via: Halsall Lane – A59 Holborn Hill and vice versa.

The temporary prohibition is necessary to allow essential highways maintenance works to be carried out.

Authority given for this Order to be made:
Michael White, Network Regulation Manager
Lancashire Highway Services, 0300 123 6701

Planning (Listed Buildings & Conservation Areas) Act 1990 Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order 2015 - Article 15

APPLICATION(S) FOR PLANNING PERMISSION

Application No: 2016/1012/COU Change of use to serve hot food from 16.00 hours to 24.00 hours 7 days a week at Unit 1, 14 - 16 Westgate, Skelmersdale.

Application No: 2016/1054/FUL Retention of an agricultural building used as a 'DEFRA Approved isolation building' at Moss Bridge Barn, Moss Bridge Lane, Lathom.
This does not (or may not) accord with the development plan.

Application No: 2016/1067/FUL Variation of Condition No. 2 imposed on planning permission 2014/1259/FUL to vary the approved plans at Freightpath Ltd, 8 Tollgate Crescent, Burscough Industrial Estate, Burscough.

APPLICATION(S) AFFECTING A CONSERVATION AREA / LISTED BUILDING

Application No: 2016/1017/FUL Replacement UPVC windows to front, side and rear at 54A Roby Mill, Up Holland, Skelmersdale.

Application No: 2016/1035/FUL First floor extension to rear at 24 Wheat Lane, Lathom.

Application No: 2016/1036/FUL Conversion of outbuilding to provide office and storage at 24 Wheat Lane, Lathom.

Application No: 2016/1057/FUL Removal of existing glazed townhouse style front door together with its frame and glazed panel above. Install new replacement hardwood cottage style front door along with a new frame and glazed panel above at 46 Roby Mill, Up Holland, Skelmersdale.

Application No: 2016/1065/FUL Remove old unused chimney down to roof level and retile as per existing roof at St Michael And All Angels Church, Lord Sefton Way, Great Altcar.

The applications are available for viewing on the Council's website www.westlancs.gov.uk/planning. Alternatively, the application can be viewed during normal office hours at 52 Derby Street, Ormskirk and at 1st Floor, The Concourse, Skelmersdale. If you wish to comment on the proposal you can do so via the Council's web site, by e.mail to plan.apps@westlancs.gov.uk or in writing to Development and Regeneration Services, 52 Derby Street, Ormskirk, but these must be received within 21 days of the date of this notice quoting the application no. Any comments made will be available for public inspection.

Applications for Minor Commercial and Householder Development
In the event that an appeal is made against a decision of the Council to refuse to grant planning permission for the proposed development, and that appeal then proceeds by way of the expedited procedure under the written representations procedure, any representations made to the Council about an application will be passed to the Secretary of State and there will be no opportunity to make further representations.

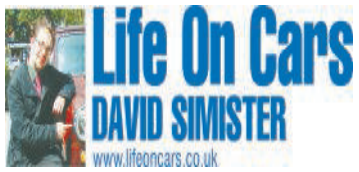
Pre-registered cars are not 'malevolent' motors!



YOU'D be forgiven for thinking it's worse than Donald Trump and Katie Hopkins getting together and having children, or finding out someone in the Government's got their initials wrong and put the boss of BHS in charge of the NHS.

But pre-registered cars – despite being described by at least one of my colleagues as a sort of automotive incest, because it involves the car industry effectively selling cars to itself – aren't quite the malevolent motors some of the newspapers have made them out to be over the past few days.

In layman's terms they're cars that dealerships buy from the manufacturers, often at a hefty discount, and then sold on to you and me later on. In effect it means the first owners of these cars are the showroom themselves, and while it's a handy way of bumping up the sales figures the net result to you and me are what are effectively brand new cars with sizeable discounts slapped on. How's that a bad thing?

Here's how it works. You're online scouring the ads for a secondhand gem and you spot a car that looks like a great deal that isn't going to hang around – but in all the pictures the registration plate's been blanked out. You ring the seller to ask for the number, he happily obliges, and when you check it out the car in question has a backstory that checks out.

On that basis you stump up the readies, but it turns out the car you've bought is rather less savoury than the one you'd been saving up for. It's the same make and model, of course, but the registration number's completely different. The moral of the story is never to buy a car – especially a suspiciously cheap one – without seeing it first.

Pre-registered cars aren't terribly sporting when it comes to car showrooms competing to have the best sales figures, but they are at least an entirely legal way of saving a few quid on a car. The sort of thing the trading standards experts are warning about is fraud. I know which I'd rather have.

Top team will put on firework display

THOUSANDS are expected to attend a firework display at Skelmersdale United's Uretek Stadium.

This year's event will take place on Friday, November 4 with the gates opening at 5pm.

The main event on the night is presented by the same people who won awards at the big Southport Fireworks Competition in September. On the day there will be fairground rides and lots of stalls.

Adults entrance is £4, Children under 16 is £2, family tickets (two adults and two children) are available for £10.

They can be purchased on the night or to avoid queuing in advance by phoning 07990 811868.

Skem exit FA Trophy after taking early lead

Max Hazeldine opens the scoring for Skelmersdale. Picture by John Driscoll

Report by Neil Leatherbarrow

Skelmersdale United 1
Kendal Town 3

SKELMERSDALE were on the receiving end of a cup upset after they were knocked out of the FA Trophy by a team a division below them.

Skem took the lead through Max Hazeldine when he flicked it into the Kendal net from a low cross but conceded two sloppy goals before letting in a third during injury time.

Wall had almost made it two after ten minutes, his powerful volley from a Valtar Fernandes cross only being kept out by a brave block from a Kendal defender.

Against the run of play Kendal levelled on 17 minutes. Sam Bailey galloped down the right-wing and found Oliver Wood on the edge of the penalty area, there was no worry though as the centre-forward still had plenty to do. He was not closed down quickly enough, was allowed to turn and saw his shot go into the corner of the goal.

The goal didn't immediately halt the Skelmersdale momentum. Kendal left-back Paul Dugdale rescued his side when Hazeldine looked set to strike from a Tom Ince cross.

Wall put one wide off Phil Mooney's cross, then Kenny Strickland's free-kick was half cleared and Wall saw a shot saved.

The turnaround came on 64 minutes. A Skem attack was quickly switched back on them by a punted clearance, Wood latched onto it and ran at an isolated Tony Rendell and beat him. Fernandes appeared on the scene too late to help and Wood was able to curl the ball into the net from 20 yards. It was far from textbook defending.

In added time Skem were committed into attack when the ball went into an area some 35 yards from goal and goalkeeper Martin Fearon was the only man left to clear it.

Unfortunately he got it wrong, the ball went to Dugdale just inside the Kendal half and he put into the empty net from 50 yards.

Skelmersdale return to league action on Saturday when they travel to Rushall Olympic.

New assistant boss Sullivan 'will bring fresh ideas to club'

Report by Neil Leatherbarrow

SKELMERSDALE United manager Tommy Lawson has appointed Tony Sullivan as his new assistant manager.

Sullivan is well known to many supporters from his time as manager of both Cammell Laird and Witton Albion, when in opposition to Skelmersdale.

During his playing career he was at Southport, Barrow and Stalybridge Celtic making a few hundred appearances at that level.

After retiring, he took over as manager of Cammell Laird and at the end of 2012/13 season on a low budget he miraculously got them into the play-off final for promotion to the Premier Division only to miss out on penalties in the final to Trafford.

Sullivan then took over as manager of struggling Premier Division Witton Albion and almost achieved the task of rescuing them from relegation.

The last couple of seasons have seen Tony work alongside Liam Watson at Stalybridge Celtic in a coaching capacity.

Tony Sullivan

Tommy Lawson said: "I have been aware that Prescot Cables had approached my longstanding assistant Brian Richardson to speak to him about filling the managerial vacancy at Hope Street.

"This made me think about who I would bring in if Brian left the club, I immediately thought about Tony, he is a man I have got on with for a long time and we talk regularly.

"Brian has done a magnificent job over the years and is a good friend, but I saw it as an opportunity to refresh things within the team management.

"Tony is an excellent coach and will bring new ideas.

"He is experienced as both a manager, a coach and a player at this level, significantly he is also a very enthusiastic man who will wear his heart on his sleeve and he will bring a fresh perspective on things.

"I am really looking forward to working with him and he has said he is looking forward to joining Skelmersdale.

"I wish Brian all the very best in the future and would like to thank him for all the valuable work he has done at the club during his ten years involved and I am sure my old friends at Prescot Cables will benefit greatly from his wisdom as we have at Skelmersdale."

Linnets pick up away point

Tadcaster Albion 0
Burscough 0

BURSCOUGH picked up a much-needed point as they fight to climb off the bottom of the table.

It was a hard-fought draw for the Linnets, who were up against a strong Tadcaster side sitting tenth in the table.

Burscough now have five points but still need another five points to reach the next nearest side.

Way of Life!

DUE TO THE GREAT SUCCESS OF SUZUKI
WE HAVE MOVED TO BIGGER PREMISES

Chapelhouse is delighted to announce that due to the fantastic growth of Suzuki in Southport, we have relocated to our main site at 603 Liverpool Road in Ainsdale. We look forward to continuing our relationship with our Suzuki customers in Southport and attracting new customers to enjoy the benefits of this brilliant brand.

SUZUKI NOMINATED FOR AWARD IN URBAN CAR CATEGORY

The New Baleno Hatchback and Ignis Mini Crossover make the grade.

Suzuki is pleased to announce that it has two nominations in the new 'Urban Car' category of the 2017 World Car of The Year.

The Baleno hatchback model and the new Ignis Mini Crossover both qualify for judging and there are six other new cars listed in this category.

Suzuki have unveiled the Ignis at the Paris Motor Show as its new global compact crossover. In addition to its simple and iconic styling, this compact SUV offers the functionality and performance to provide confident driving in a wide variety of conditions.

Both the Baleno and Ignis feature SHVS (Smart Hybrid Vehicle by Suzuki) a lightweight, compact mild hybrid system that uses an ISG (Integrated Starter Generator) with an integrated power generator and electric motor, and a lithium-ion battery pack. It is an optimum system for use in a compact car that leverages the electric motor's torque assist and the system's efficient power re-generation to realise better fuel economy.

TWO 2017 WORLD CAR OF THE YEAR NOMINEES FROM SUZUKI

Outstanding Service at Chapelhouses' new base

Steve Mochrie the General Manager of the main Chapelhouse site is thrilled about the move, and is looking forward to welcoming all customers, new and old to the new site.

Together with Matt Sharpe, the Suzuki Sales Manager and his team, they are eager to continue to provide outstanding customer service and a fantastic model range, including the All New S-Cross but also brand best sellers like The Vitara and the Swift.
